HIGHLIGHTS

Dear Parents and Carers

We have had a delightful short week this week. Our work on recycling and reusing has continued. This was well and truly cemented with our visit to the British Ironworks Centre on Wednesday. We had a fantastic time looking at all the sculptures and seeing what they were made of. It was super to see how the centre encourages recycling through collection of items such as bottle lids, crisp packets and bottles, not just metal, in large animal cages. The children all enjoyed following the robot trail and finding Minions, as well as lots of other familiar characters from film and TV. Have a look at some of our photos below.

I met with our Friends of School on Wednesday evening to discuss further planning for the Newport Carnival. Please see the poster about workshops that we are going to hold if you want help with making hats and if you would like to help with creating artwork for our float.

We urgently require any clean recycling objects that you could bring in to school, to help not only with the carnival but also our artwork for the Newport Show. As much or as little as you can provide would be much appreciated.

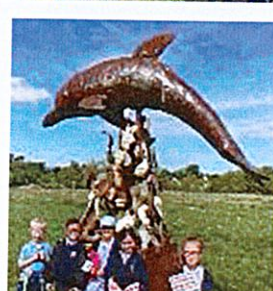

The weather is due to pick up this weekend, so make the most of the sunshine whilst it lasts!
